

Insulation Installation Training

This course is specifically designed for existing insulation installers and people who wish to enter this growth industry. The course is a key requirement for registration as an installer on the Australian Government's Installer Provider Register. Once placed on this register, installers will be able to provide their services to clients under the Australian Government's Energy Efficient Package which can include subsidies for the installation of ceiling insulation.

In addition to the above training, installer provider register applicants may also need to hold a current Occupational Health and Safety induction card (CIC) or equivalent.
